FOR REBATING

Furniture Dealers and Railroad Officials to Face Federal Jury at Los Angeles.

Santa Fe freight officials must appear before the United States grand jury at Los Angeles and tell what they know about rebates.

The Santa Fe Railway company has been giving rebates to furniture, agricultural implement and other shippers in the charge.

General Freight Agent Barnwell and City Freight Agent T. W. Pate were subpoenaed by the United States Marshal's forces.

Merchants who must appear are Barker Brothers, Mackie-Fredericks company, Pacific Purchasing company, Los Angeles Furniture company, Niles Pease Furniture company, all furniture firms; Newell Mathews company, California Implement company, the California and the Pioneer Truck company, and others.

United States District Attorney Oscar Lawler declined to discuss the subject, but it was learned the move has been contemplated by the department of justice for some time.

Agents of the department have been collecting evidence, and it is asserted ample testimony is on hand to procure indictments by the federal grand jury.

The witnesses are ordered to bring with them all of their books, receipts and any and all documents bearing on the subject.

It was said by those informed, that before the matter is concluded the Southern Pacific and other railway companies will be brought into the investigation.

RESIGNATIONS AND CHANGES ON NEEDLES DIVISION

The report has reached this city that Trainmaster O. Meadows, of the Needles division of the Santa Fe, has resigned his position, to take effect at once, and that Conductor Wilder, of the Arizona division, has been named as his successor.

Meadows, who was well known among local railroad men, and was formerly on the Limited between Needles and Los Angeles, says the Trainmaster Sun.

When Trainmaster Meadows was transferred from San Bernardino last spring, it was then rumored that he would never return to the Santa Fe, but when he left Needles he would probably leave the employ of the road.

This is followed by the appointment of John Gallivans as permanent trainmaster of the Los Angeles division, with headquarters at San Bernardino, he having been performing the duties ever since the transferring of Mr. Meadows to Needles. It will also mean the permanent appointment of Walter Reed as road foreman of engines at this point.

S. J. Wall, formerly roundhouse foreman at Barstow, who went to Winslow as master mechanic some months ago, will return to Needles in the same capacity, while W. A. George, who has been master mechanic at Needles, will go to Winslow in the same capacity.

Fireman Fall of the Lake Valley Rincón run had a narrow escape from serious injury on Thursday night of last week by being precipitated to the ground from the cab window as the train was pulling into the Rincón yards. The car, however, was slowed up for the station is probably all that saved his life. The fall was occasioned by the arm rest of the engine breaking. The accident was not seen by the engineer and Fall was not missed until several minutes after, when he dragged himself into the station.

The Santa Fe is now returning to Mexico many of the Mexican laborers shipped into the country during the spring and summer for railroad work. Three car loads went south through the city Friday night, two more cars with passengers on board train No. 27 Saturday night and last night's El Paso train carried a like consignment, all on route to their native land.

G. M. Smith, traveling auditor for the Harvey system, returned to the city this morning from Deming, where he relieved the Harvey manager at that place while the latter attended the Masonic Grand Lodge meetings in this city.

Geo. W. McConley, auditor of the Santa Fe coast lines, is registered at the Alvarado.

Wounds, Bruises and Burns.
By applying an antiseptic dressing to wounds, bruises, burns and like injuries before inflammation sets in, they may be healed without maturation and in about one-third the time required by the old treatment. This is the greatest discovery and triumph of modern surgery. Chamberlain's Pain Balm acts on this same principle. It is an antiseptic and when applied to such injuries, causes them to heal very quickly. It also allays the pain and soreness and prevents any danger of blood poisoning. Keep a bottle of Pain Balm in your home and it will save you time and money, not to mention the inconvenience and suffering such injuries entail. For sale by all druggists.JOSEPH B. MAYO
IS ENDORSED HEARTILY

By His Former Fellow Citizens of Santa Fe, Where He Was Commissioner.

Joseph B. Mayo of Albuquerque has been nominated for the position of county commissioner by the regular republican convention of that county.

Mr. Mayo was for many years a resident of Santa Fe county, engaged in mining near Golden. He was the manager of the Old Reliable Mining company, which operated extensively in that region for several years. The property which had been purchased by the company became involved in litigation about six years ago, and the litigation is not yet closed. This caused a shutting down of the works and a removal of Mr. Mayo from this county to Bernalillo county.

While a resident of Santa Fe county Mr. Mayo was respected, popular and influential in republican politics. He served a year and a half as county commissioner by appointment of ex-Governor L. Bradford Prince, during the years 1891 and 1892. That the people of Bernalillo county may know something of the man who has been nominated for an important office and who asks for their votes on election day, the New Mexican publishes the following biographical sketch of the candidate:

Mr. Mayo was born of English parents, who had come to this country in the '30s, in Elizabeth City, state of New Jersey, in 1844. He was educated in the public schools of his native town and received a liberal education at Lancaster college, a branch of the well known Rutgers college in that state at New Brunswick. Upon reaching manhood he entered the silver tableware factory of his father in Newark. He learned this business and remained therein until 1885, when he invested in mining property in southern Santa Fe county, coming thence to Golden to make that mining camp his home. He left his brother in charge of the factory in New Jersey, and to operate the business therein as he desired to give his entire time to his mining investments in this territory. While in Golden he did much for the development of the mining interests of that camp and employed many men and miners at good wages, having at certain times 100 men in the employ of his company, the Old Reliable Mining company.

During the last five years Mr. Mayo has been a resident of Albuquerque, where he has invested in real estate and in private banking. He has a handsome residence where he and family reside and has become thoroughly identified with the best interests of the Duke city.

Indebtedness Lessened Under His Administration of County Affairs.

While serving as county commissioner of Santa Fe county he was elected chairman, and made an excellent record in that position. During his administration, county affairs were economically, honestly and carefully administered and the best interests of the people were heeded and considered in all official transactions. The bonds of Santa Fe county, which had been issued in aid of the old Texas-Santa Fe & Northern railroad from Espanola to Santa Fe, and which then amounted to $150,000 in bonds and about $60,000 in unpaid coupons and the issue of $150,000 in bonds, and about $80,000 in unpaid coupons to the Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe Railway company, for construction of its line from Lamy to Santa Fe, were refunded under his administration, and the interest, which was 6 per cent, was reduced to 5 per cent. About $60,000 of other bonds bearing 8 and 7 per cent were also refunded into 5 per cent bonds at the same time. This was done after the legality of these issues had been declared by the territorial supreme court in a suit in which several taxpayers of the county of Santa Fe endeavored to prove these issues illegal and invalid. The settlement was a good one for the county and had the property owners and taxpayers paid the interest on the new issues at the time, as they should have done, the enormous debt which now oppresses this county would not have accumulated.

His Record in This County of the Best.

Mr. Mayo was a candidate on the republican ticket for the house of representatives in 1890, and was fairly elected, but was swindled out of his seat by election frauds and by being counted out. His record in Santa Fe county as a man, as a citizen and as an official, is of the best. His experience in public affairs, his career as a successful and energetic business man, the fact that he is a man of the best of habits, liberal and fair to those whom he employs and in every way worthy of confidence and preference, should induce the people of Bernalillo county to elect him to the position for which he is a candidate. If chosen, he will serve them faithfully and well; his past record is proof positive of this assertion.—New Mexican.

BILLY WILLIAMS, GREAT HEART

"Keep innocence, and take heed to the thing that is right, for that shall bring a man peace at the last."

A pathetic story comes from Topeka, a story of the most fascinating human interest, of unselfish deeds, of thoughtfulness of others, of brilliant successes and sad twilight hours.

The man is one who in the hey-day of his prosperity gave freely of his fortune for the cause of kindness and for the wiping away of tears.

Today, with two of his children, broken in health, very close upon the verge of a last resting place, he is waiting patiently in poverty and distress for the one clear call.

The man is Billy Williams, once the minstrel king.

Born in Dublin, the son of a successful and wealthy physician, he ran away from home, came to New Orleans and in time took up his chosen profession. He was an intimate of Dan Rice, the famous clown and acrobat of the days of the dancer; of George Thompson, who wrote "Old Black Joe," and of many other famous men of that time, and with them Billy Williams sang and danced himself into the hearts of countless thousands.

But great as was his art, it was far exceeded by his generosity. His benefactions aggregated more than $100,000. When the dark days of the fever plague smote all the southland, he gave $21,000 to the city of Memphis alone, and to another district he sent 100 barrels of flour, costing $5,000. He inherited a fortune of $85,000 from his father's estate, and with what lavish hand he gave it of it is written down only in the remembrance of the recording angel.

When, in New Orleans, the plague was at its worst, and children were being buried in trenches for lack of coffins, he purchased and brought to the city ninety coffins for the little ones whose hearts were so much like his own. It is doubtful whether in his whole career there came to him a single cry for assistance that was not answered promptly, generously and unostentatiously, in the sweet name of charity. His name became a household word, and was loved not only in the south, but through the civilized world. Pope Leo XIII, deeply impressed by these acts of almost unparalleled goodness of heart, had struck a medal of gold, suitably inscribed, and this the aged minstrel wears to this day.

Then his health broke. Physicians ordered him west. In 1900 he went to Denver, and for several years conducted there a theatrical school and exchange. At last his old trouble returned with redoubled malignity. Misfortunes showered upon him. His wife lies between life and death in a St. Louis hospital. Five children are with her, and they have scarcely the necessities of life.

This is the story. Do you think this is the end of Billy Williams? No. Kind friends are trying to do something for him, and surely an All-Wise Spirit will see to it that the man who gave so freely of his own for others will not be permitted to come to his last hour in unhappiness and want.

Prate of your stately buildings erected in the name of charity, wonder at your glorious facades and halls dedicated to the cause of learning, acclaim the multi-millionaire who gives a tithe of what is his for the dissemination of knowledge and the perpetuation of his name—but think with pulsing heart and with eyes clouded with tears of love upon the minstrel, Billy Williams, and the golden deeds of such a life.

"For the end of that man is peace."

BISHOP IMPOSES BAN ON NEARER MY GOD TO THEE

A New York dispatch, of recent date, says: Bishop John J. Connor of the Newark Catholic diocese has placed an interdiction on the hymns, "Nearer My God, to Thee," and "Lead, Kindly Light." The first hymn is tabooed altogether, while the latter may be sung only after service.

Bishop O'Connor has sent this order to the rectors of the various churches in his diocese. When seen in his episcopal residence in South Orange today, the bishop said:

"The rule of the church forbids the singing of any hymn or anything else that is not part of the liturgical service, and of course 'Nearer My God, to Thee,' is no more a part of the service than is 'In the Sweet Bye and Bye.' Aside from the church rule, this hymn is purely sentimental, and I can see no reason for its rendition. 'Lead, Kindly Light' is an appeal for spiritual light, but then there is no cause for singing it in our churches."

The liturgical service is in Latin, but the singing of an English translation of a part of liturgy or psalm is sanctioned.

The two hymns now excluded have been sung frequently of late. "Lead, Kindly Light" was written by Cardinal Newman before his conversion to Catholicism. It was President McKinley's favorite hymn.
